Your owner-only business can benefit from a Merrill Edge® Small Business 401(k) plan designed specifically for the self-employed, owner and spouse businesses, partnerships and sole proprietorships.

It can help you defer the payment of taxes on a higher level of profits (compared to other retirement investment options), as well as plan for your retirement.

The benefits could really add up

High contribution limits
- Contributions to your 401(k) account are made up of your pre-tax salary contributions up to $19,000 in 2019, in any combination of pre-tax or Roth 401(k) contributions. Pre-tax contributions reduce your taxable income as well as contributions you can make as the business owner, up to a combined amount of $56,000 annually, or 25% of compensation, whichever is less.
- If you’re age 50 or older, you can contribute an additional $6,000 annually.
- You can take a loan out against your 401(k) account.

Save on taxes
- Company contributions to your individual account, administrative costs and other plan expenses are generally tax deductible to your business.\(^1\)
- Convenient pre-tax contributions to your own individual account reduce your current personal taxable income.
- Tax-deferred compounding and growth potential, meaning potential earnings realized on investments—including interest, dividends, or other returns—may then also accumulate additional earnings, all potentially tax deferred until withdrawn in retirement, when you may be in a lower tax bracket.
- Roth 401(k) option is available.

\(^1\) The deductibility of employer contributions to your account is limited by the Internal Revenue Code. Contact your tax advisor to discuss your particular circumstances.

\(^2\) Contribution limits apply for 2019. Amounts for subsequent years may vary.

\(^3\) “Self-Employment Income” is the net income after the subtraction of the hypothetical business expenses and self-employment taxes. For more information, see IRS Publication 560, Retirement Plans for Small Business at www.irs.gov.

Bob owns his own consulting firm. He has a spouse and no employees. His revenues can fluctuate quarter to quarter, and his tax obligations are somewhat unpredictable each year.

He established a Merrill Edge Small Business 401(k) to help plan for his retirement and better manage his tax obligations.

Bob contributed the maximum allowable amount from his salary and company contributions:\(^2\) With the low administrative costs and offsetting tax benefits, after one year, he realized a total benefit value of $60,000 compared to the previous year without a company 401(k) plan.

| Self-Employment Income\(^3\) | $150,000 |
| Salary Deducted 401(k) Contribution | $19,000 |
| Owner’s Share of Employer Contribution | $30,000 |
| Total Retirement Contribution | $49,000 |
| Total Tax Savings | $11,000 |
| Total Benefit | $60,000 |

The hypothetical illustration assumes the 2019 self-employment tax rate and standard deduction and marital exemptions as applied to a sole-proprietor with gross income of $250,000. The hypothetical also assumes approximately $90,820 in business expenses (including a small annual plan administration expense) and makes no assumptions with respect to specific business deductions or credits that may be available.
Streamlined plan setup

- Online account opening and plan setup can be done in 30 minutes or less, with help if you need it.
- Simple, straightforward pricing that is lower than most traditional 401(k) plans.
- Investment menu and portfolios tailored for the Small Business 401(k) by Morningstar Investment Management LLC (Morningstar), helping take the guesswork out of your plan’s fund selection and your individual investment choices.

Convenient to use

- Company contributions can be structured as discretionary, meaning you can have the flexibility to contribute in years when cash flow is ample, or not contribute when cash flows are insufficient.
- If your business has multiple owners or you own another business, your business can still implement a 401(k) plan.\(^4\)
- Administration is minimal, certain plan testing is not required, and an IRS Form 5500 is filed annually only when plan assets exceed $250,000. Step-by-step guidance helps you understand the basic requirements and year-end reporting.
- Consolidate your investments by rolling over other retirement account balances.

Education and support

- With Plan Administrators Inc.’s (PAi) CoPilot, Years of Retirement, you will receive educational resources designed to help you visualize how many years you can afford to be retired, based on your current savings plan and account balance.
- CoPilot’s Alerts provide proactive, relevant messaging, reminding you about the importance of participating in your own retirement journey.

Integrated services help simplify your process

Spend more time focused on your business through streamlined recordkeeping, investments and fiduciary and call center support services.

Investments and fiduciary support

- Morningstar selects the funds for the plan as well as creates portfolios. And because Morningstar acts as the investment manager and fiduciary, you receive premium value as part of your low-cost plan.

Recordkeeping

- Full service recordkeeping administration is provided through PAi. They will guide you through the year-end plan document and report processing with a step-by-step guide, and a PAi 401(k) Consultant can help you set up your plan.

Call center support

- PAi 401(k) Consultants provide educational support. You can also access a suite of educational resources on the plan’s website to help you make the most of your plan and work toward the retirement you envision.

401(k) or SEP?

For the self-employed individual, an individual 401(k) may provide an option for maximizing both your potential tax savings and your retirement savings. The ability to make both a salary deferral and an employer contribution can allow an employer to put away more money than in a SEP, and even more for an individual over age 50 making a catch-up contribution.
