

Merrill Lynch Automated Funding Service

The Merrill Lynch Automated Funding Service (Service) provides an opportunity for you to automatically contribute the maximum contribution amount allowed by law, either all at once or periodically throughout the year to your traditional IRA, Roth IRA, Coverdell Education Savings Account (ESA)¹ or Rollover IRA. You can choose to make contributions from another Merrill Lynch account or from an account at another financial institution. What's more, you can also use the Service to make contributions to a Coverdell ESA.¹

Develop a convenient, disciplined contribution program

With the Service, you can contribute to a retirement or education savings account regularly and effortlessly. This convenient service allows you to:

- Pay yourself first.
- Establish a disciplined contribution program.
- Authorize automatic debits from your Merrill Lynch Cash Management Account® or Bank of America account or an account with another financial institution.
- Specify the frequency and amount of your contributions.
- Designate any business day of the month for your contribution.
- Terminate participation in the Service at any time.

The potential benefits of consistent contributions and compounding growth

Consistently making annual contributions to an IRA over many years, paired with the opportunity to take advantage of compounding growth potential, can help you save for retirement. Consider this example: The graph below shows how contributing $5,000 a year and assuming a 6% rate of return compounded annually can result in an account reaching a value of nearly $195,000 over 20 years.

The Service, along with other periodic investment plans, does not assure a profit or protect against loss in declining markets.

Since such an investment plan involves continual investment in securities regardless of fluctuating price levels, you should consider your willingness to continue purchasing during periods of high or low price levels.

This hypothetical example is illustrative only. It shows the long-term growth potential of annual $5,000 traditional IRA contributions occurring over a period of 20 years. It assumes that the hypothetical account owner is eligible to make contributions of $5,000 each year and that those contributions grow at a 6% annual rate of return, compounded annually. It also assumes that all contributions are made on January 1 of each year and that no distributions are taken or are required to be taken from the account during the period shown. The balance projected at the end of the 20-year hypothetical period would be impacted by taxes that would be due upon distribution. This example is not intended to represent the past or future performance of any specific investment vehicle. It also does not reflect the volatility that can occur in an equity-based account and assumes that current tax laws remain in effect throughout, nor does it reflect the costs associated with investing which include, but are not limited to, commissions or sales loads.

This authorization is to remain in full force and effect until Merrill Lynch has received notification from me of its change or termination. Either of us may terminate my participation in the service at any time. Any termination or change will become effective as soon as Merrill Lynch has had a reasonable amount of time to act on it. If you notify Merrill Lynch by spoken communication, you may also be required to send written notification.

¹ Coverdell ESAs that are not enrolled in the Merrill Lynch Investment Advisory Program (MLIAP) cannot accept contributions effective on the DOL Applicability Date. All references to ESA contributions throughout this document apply only to ESA accounts enrolled in MLIAP.

² The Automated Funding Service cannot be used for SEP or SIMPLE employer contributions or salary deferrals. You should confirm your IRA eligibility and contribution limits with your tax advisor every year.

IRAs: For traditional IRAs, which includes IRRA, contributions cannot be made beginning in the calendar year when you reach age 70½, and generally, your Automated Funding Service election will terminate automatically. For Roth IRAs, there is no age restriction on your ability to contribute. For traditional and Roth IRAs, you can contribute up to the maximum amount described below or 100% of your taxable compensation, whichever is less. Additionally, the maximum contribution is aggregated regardless of how many or which type of IRAs to which you may make contributions in any one year.

The maximum contributions in 2017 and 2018 for traditional IRAs, Roth IRAs and new contributions to Rollover IRAs are as follows: $5,500 for individuals younger than age 50 for the entire calendar year and $6,500 for individuals age 50 or older at any time during the calendar year (includes $1,000 "catch-up" contribution). Amounts rolled over to Rollover IRAs are not included for this purpose.

Coverdell ESA: The maximum annual contribution limit is $2,000 per beneficiary. The contribution limit is subject to phase out depending on your Modified Adjusted Gross Income.

Please note that your Modified Adjusted Gross Income may reduce your contribution limits to both IRAs and Coverdell ESAs. Please refer to your Custodial Agreement and consult your tax advisor for additional details on these restrictions.
